

Bias and perspective are created by what a writer tells, omits, and the language used.

Bryant-Taneda: English Studies 12

Truth, Bias, and the News

Objective: You will select a specific social topic for example, marginalization of people, prison system, environment, and COVID and mandatory masks. Type up Truth, Bias, and the News as a multi-paragraph expository write. Use MLA writing style, and use this worksheet to guide your research.

1. Topic/story (in your own words):

A. Article 1 (Initial Source):

Explain the topic of the article. Write three succinct sentences about the topic. Blend in one short quote from the text as supportive evidence.

B. Article 2

Explain how the second article presents the same topic. Explain the perspective or bias. Write three succinct sentences, and blend in one short quote from the text as supportive evidence.

C. Article 3:

Explain how the third article presents the same topic. Explain the perspective or bias. Write three succinct sentences, and blend in one short quote from the text as supportive evidence.

2. Conclusion. Write about the differences you found in the three articles:_____

Write about whether the three perspectives changed your opinion on the topic and how you understand it?_____

3. Works Cited: Type up the MLA formatting for each of the three article sources